November Program: The County's Environment—Problems and Solutions

By Danila Sheveiko, Recording Secretary

The November 14th Program will take an objective look at the health of our environment and solutions to the County's most urgent environmental problems.

How is our air? What about water quality; is it getting better or worse? Is the fish caught in the Potomac River safe to eat? The County passed a law to curb energy use and greenhouse gas emissions a decade ago; are we meeting the mandate? We will try to answer these and other questions with easy-to-follow graphics backed up by publicly available data, including government reports, studies from regional environmental nonprofits, our own research, and investigations by the local press.

The County's ecosystems are facing numerous and growing threats from stormwater pollution in our rivers and creeks to loss of wildlife habitat and, of course, human civilization's existential challenge we call climate change and our local contribution to the global problem.

Yet practical real-world solutions to our environmental problems already exist, if only we can embrace them and work together with nature instead of against it, while improving our quality of life, generating green jobs, and building a resilient local economy. Technological and policy prescriptions are standing at the ready and the opportunities to implement them abound, like Executive Regulation 21-15 recently introduced by County Executive Leggett to adopt the 2012 International Green Construction Code, as well as other legislative and regulatory action the County can take up immediately to make a meaningful difference and assure a green future for all.

Community Heroes: Lene and Abeba Tsegaye, Owners of Kefa Cafe in Silver Spring

By Alan Bowser, First Vice President

Lene and Abeba Tsegaye are co-owners of the Kefa Cafe, one of Silver Spring's most important small businesses and community gathering places. Kefa Cafe is widely recognized as one of the most successful woman-owned and immigrant-owned businesses in Montgomery County.

For more than 20 years, the sisters, who fled from political persecution in Ethiopia in the 1980s, have operated one of the Silver Spring downtown business district's most popular coffee shops, serving an increasingly diverse clientele. In an era when the number of coffee shops chains are ever-increasing, the tiny Kefa Cafe continues to provide excellent coffee, pastries, other delicacies and the highest quality service to an appreciative neighborhood.

Lene and Abeba are celebrated as "community heroes" by their neighbors because they have long celebrated the Silver Spring community. Their Bonifant Street cafe has been recognized as an important community gathering place, hosting scores of important civic meetings and community events. Important non-profit organizations like Impact Silver Spring have their origins in community meetings held at Kefa. Several Montgomery County political campaigns have begun in the comfortable back room of the Kefa Cafe. The cafe's back room is known as "Space 7:10," and regularly features the work of local artists, homeless sculptors and painters.

The Tsegaye sisters believe that it is important to give back and to support the downtown neighborhoods that have nurtured this woman-owned business since the early days of Silver Spring's revitalization. They have sponsored local soccer teams, provided refreshments for many civic organizations and non-profit organizations, and they have supported Progress Place, a nearby Silver Spring homeless shelter. They have lent their support to many newly-established businesses, immigrant and non-immigrant, in Silver Spring, demonstrating how to combine good business sense with community outreach to establish a successful enterprise.

The mutual affection and appreciation between the Tsegaye sisters and the Silver Spring community could not have been more apparent than following a recent fire that damaged stores at the corner of Bonifant Street and Georgia Avenue. The Kefa Cafe was forced to close temporarily as the Lene and Abebe sought to repair water and smoke damage from a fire in a neighboring restaurant. When the cafe opened ten months later, a large and joyful crowd of neighbors and elected officials were there to welcome the coffee shop back into operation.

When Montgomery County was requesting proposals for a new kiosk business in the new Silver Spring Library, the surrounding neighbor> hoods successfully advocated for Kefa's proposal and raised a substantial amount of money for start-up costs.

Lene and Abeba Tsegaye have worked every day to strengthen the local Silver Spring community and to stand as enduring models of entrepreneurial talent and small business success in Montgomery County. Their generous support of neighborhood civic associations, community groups, and local nonprofit organizations have made them "community heroes."

Pepco to Build Shared Use Rec. Path on Trans. Line

By Peggy Dennis, Past President and Transportation Committee Member

Score one for the MCCF! Several years ago, we sent a letter to the vice president of Pepco asking for the construction of a shared use recreational path along Pepco's transmission line from Westlake Dr. (Bethesda) to Pinev Meetinghouse Rd. (Potomac). Exelon Corp. was then in negotiations to acquire Pepco. This was to have been a short "trial" project. When the merger was approved, Pepco not only did a 180-degree pivot from its former opposition, but agreed to run a path all the way to the Maryland SoccerPlex in Germantown. At the October 6 meeting of the Pedestrian Bicycle Traffic Safety Advisory Cmte., Pepco staff gave a PowerPoint presentation on plans to make good on its promise.

Concussion Risk on County High School Synthetic Turf Football Fields Confirmed

By Danila Sheveiko

Newly uncovered documents show school system knew synthetic turf fields were dangerous.

A June 2016 independent testing report obtained by the Civic Federation earlier this month under the Maryland Public Information Act shows the synthetic turf field at Richard Montgomery High School failed to meet the minimum safety requirements set by FieldTurf, a manufacturer with contracts for all of the County's artificial turf fields. The LDD Sports, LLC, report verified the field:

"to be out of compliance and does not meet the requirements for play based on the specifications as referenced in ASTM F1936-10 with locations above the maximum allowable limit of 200."

This report appears to directly contradict earlier statements by Montgomery County Public Schools officials with regard to the safety of their synthetic turf fields. The report also reveals that in at least one case—Richard Montgomery—the school system knew the field was dangerous, but still let the manufacturer's warranty expire.

With a G-MAX score of 253, Richard Montgomery now becomes the most unsafe field among MCPS synthetic turf fields, with Walter Johnson a close second. To put that in perspective, according to the Sports Turf Managers Association, a G-MAX score of 200 is qualified by OSHA as "Will Cause Death." G-MAX testing measures shock absorption and is therefore critical to the health and safety of children and adults using the field; the lower the number, the safer the student athlete. Some professional sport teams limit the G-MAX scores to 120, and the NFL has set the maximum at 166. WJHS tested as high as 194.5 just months ago due to its defective plastic carpeting, a disconcerting fact uncovered by the Civic Federation over the summer that garnered national media attention by Forbes Magazine and USA Today, as well as local television stations:

I Sept. 5th, 2016: "Are Montgomery County synthetic turf fields safe for play?" ABC7.

Made from plastics and pulverized used tires known as tire crumb rubber, these fields are failing to absorb impacts like a natural grass surface would. Synthetic turf fields not only cost much more than natural grass turf, the tire crumb infill can accumulate dangerous pathogens and is known to contain twelve known human carcinogens. Both the crumb rubber and plastic grass contain lead, as the FieldTurf Mid-Atlantic Sales representative had to admit under pressure from the House Ways and Means Committee in Annapolis earlier this year.

Synthetic turf problems are prompting lawsuits and early replacements at schools and universities around the nation, but in Montgomery County, it looks like MCPS allowed the Richard Montgomery field warranty to expire without challenge this August, after a July independent test by a different company, Athletic Field Consultants, Inc., showed that areas of the RMHS field G-MAX tested as high as 198.84.

The continued trickle of documents uncovered by the Civic Federation shows the school system's sole synthetic turf provider Field-Turf is having a hard time maintaining what appears to be the lowest standards in this loosely regulated industry, putting children's safety into question while MCPS looks the other way.

Update on Deer Hunting in Suburban Neighborhoods

By Peggy Dennis, Past President and Transportation Committee Member

I recently queried Paul Peditto, Director of the Wildlife and Heritage Service, Maryland Department of Natural Resources, about the term "safety zone" as applied to the permission forms in use by hunters. Currently Montgomery County imposes for a 100 yard "safety zone" around each location where a licensed hunter has permission to hunt for deer. In the past, we believed that this required the permission of all property owners or residents within 100 yards of the hunting location. Mr. Peditto has provided a clarification which should make it easier for archery hunting to take place in suburban neighborhoods.

First, there is no requirement that the term "safety zone" be used on permission forms. "Hunting" involves two discreet but related activities. The first is the actual shooting or trapping of a wild animal. Only the landowner where the hunter will be physically present must sign the permission form in writing. The second activity pertains the tracking and retrieval of a wounded animal.

The hunter and/or the property owner who is permitting the hunt to take place on his property should contact surrounding property owners within the 100 yard zone to advise them that hunting will be taking place. These homeowners should be asked to provide permission (written or verbal) for the hunter to track and retrieve a wounded animal. There is no requirement that all surrounding property owners must agree to allow the hunter to track and retrieve a wounded deer to remove it from their property.

Most property owners within the 100 yard zone should be willing to agree to tracking and retrieval. Those who are concerned about minimizing the suffering of a wounded animal will prefer that the animal be swiftly and humanely dispatched. And most homeowners would not want to return home to find a dead or dying deer in their yard.

It is up to the hunter to accept the risk of having a few properties where he does not have permission to track and retrieve. Should a wounded deer succumb on a property either within or beyond the 100 yard "zone," if the hunter does not have permission to enter that property hunter, he should make a "reasonable" attempt to get permission immediately to track and retrieve. The hunter might knock on the door and ask for permission. Failing that, the hunter might call the police or animal control to request their assistance in removing the animal.

Each year thousands of deer in Montgomery County are killed in deer-vehicle collisions. The cost of disposing of these carcasses is born by all of us. In contrast, all deer harvested by hunters are consumed and nothing is wasted. Hunters generally take their harvest for their own use and to gift to friends and family. The County pays for surplus venison to be processed and donated to soup kitchens to feed the homeless and hungry. I believe that this is a more humane and positive outcome. And Mr Peditto thanks us for our "ongoing commitment to facilitating hunting as a primary tool for managing our suburban deer populations."

Resolution on Deer Hunting Issues to be Introduced at November Meeting

By Peggy Dennis

On February 13, 2012, by a vote of 19 in favor, 1 opposed and 1 abstention, Civic Federation delegates approved the following: "be it resolved that the Montgomery County Civic Federation urges our county and state officials to expand funding and to work collaboratively towards liberalizing appropriate regulations to extend the hunting season for deer and facilitate controlled and safe hunting on both public and private lands." Since then, I have worked with County and State elected officials in support of this very strong position.

As civic activists we sometimes feel that our Councilmembers don't listen to us or introduce legislation that will improve our quality of life. In June, under growing pressure from neighborhood associations, the County Council unanimously voted to ask our State delegation to introduce four bills pertaining to deer hunting. Their request is beginning to bear fruit.

At the meeting on Monday, November 14, I will introduce the following floor resolution.

Be it resolved that the Montgomery County Civic Federation:

I Thank the County Council for their continued support for archery hunting to shrink the deer herds in suburban neighborhoods.

■ Support local bill MC 10-17 (Montgomery County—Archery Hunting—Safety Zone) to reduce the safety zone from 100 yards to 50 yards.

Ask our State Delegation to introduce legislation in the 2017 session to allow Sunday deer hunting on private land during the 130-day hunting season, not just on two Sundays.

Ask our State Delegation to introduce legislation to extend the hunting season for one month through February.

MCCF delegates from neighborhoods that have way too many deer (that's most neighborhoods in the "down county") should attend the November meeting to vote in support this resolution.

[Editor's Note: This is the same resolution Ms. Dennis put forth in both the September and October newsletters. A vote on it at the September general meeting did not pass; it was tabled in October.]

MCCF Opposes Abolishment of the Office of People's Counsel, Testifies November 1st

MCCF opposes Bill 41-16, "Community Zoning and Land Use Resource Officer," which was proposed (without consultation with communities) to permanently abolish the Office of the People's Counsel from the County Code and replace it with a Resource Officer who would not be allowed to participate in hearings.

At its October 10 meeting, MCCF passed an emergency resolution opposing this Bill which was just introduced on October 4. A Community Resource Officer would be no comparison to the responsibilities of the Office of People's Counsel, which is an attorney responsible for representing the public interest in land use and zoning matters.

MCCF pushed hard to establish this office and it was finally placed in the County Code in 1990. The funding for the OPC in 2008 was $246,000 for 1.8 positions. In 2010, the County Council removed funding for this important office ostensibly for fiscal reasons.

Three development ombudsmen/ coordinator positions ($577,000) have been funded—with MCDOT CIP funds—since the time that the OPC was defunded, essentially using debt service to pay for public positions that assist developers but the County Council has not restored funding to the position that is supposed to represent the public interest.

Your 'Welcome to the Neighborhood' Profiles Wanted

Montgomery County is fortunate to have many communities that are excellent places to live and where residents take great pride in their homes, neighborhood amenities, and local history. This column will allow member associations to talk about the positive attributes of their community and what they would like to see in the future as enhancing these qualities and preserving what keeps people here in the County.

The format for a community profile is available here for downloading. See the September newsletter (p. 16) for an example of a profile for those interested in writing about their neighborhoods.

Submissions should be emailed to civicfednews AT montgomery civic.org by the 14th of each month for review.

I County Executive Leggett filed Executive Regulation 21-15 on September 28th to adopt the 2012 International Green Construction Code via Method 2 legislation, so the County Council can only take an up-or-down vote with no amendments. If the Council does not act, the bill automatically becomes law in 60 days.

ISSUES DISCUSSED

I Monthly Program: The November program will focus on the state of the County's environment. Metrics on air and water quality, tree canopy, carbon footprint, and other environmental indicators will be used to highlight the most urgent and critical threats to the County's environment, followed by a presentation on real-world solutions that can stall and reverse the degradation of our ecosystems.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Education

I Montgomery County Public Schools wants to get a waiver to start school before Labor Day and are considering legal action. The Superintendent came out with recommendations for the Walter Johnson cluster, which is very overcrowded, to re-open the Woodward school as a high school again on Old Georgetown Road and turn it into a vocational education school, but there was no proposal to build a new school, even though it was one of the promises of the new White Flint Sector Plan, so this increases the number of "modular classroom additions" aka portables. An independent report for Richard Montgomery High School synthetic turf field was uncovered via the Civic Federation's Maryland Public Information Act request to MCPS. The report shows G-MAX score as high as 253, so the field can't absorb impacts and that could lead to an increase in concussions and other serious injury.

Public Finance

I Marriott International will keep its headquarters in Montgomery County with $62 million in government incentives, evenly split between the County and the State of Maryland, or roughly $18,000 per job created. Marriott made a similar deal back in 1999.
